

QUORELIA

CORPORATE IDENTITY MANUAL

Introduction

This manual defines how the Quorelia identity is built and used — the logo, color, typography, and the rules that keep the brand consistent across every material we produce, from a client dashboard to a business card.

Quorelia is an independent monitoring and automated-reporting layer for renewable energy assets — built first for a live 1,000 MW BESS plant, and designed to extend across solar, wind, and storage. Every element of this system is built to reinforce one idea: a number you can stand behind.

01

Basic System

Logo, color, typography, and the rules that hold them together.

Logo Composition

BS 1-1

The Quorelia mark is built from two locked elements: the Symbol and the Logotype. The two are never separated, resized independently, or rearranged.

The Symbol

An open circular form for continuous, 24/7 monitoring, with an internal signal path standing in for live plant data — resolving into the Q.

The Logotype

Set in Cambria, wide-tracked capitals. Used only in the exact proportion shown — never condensed, expanded, or re-set in another face.

Locked proportion

Symbol height is fixed relative to logotype width. Treat the lockup as one object when placing or resizing it.

Clear Space & Minimum Size

CLEAR SPACE

"X" = the height of the Symbol. Keep at least one X of clear space on every side of the lockup — nothing else (text, edges, other logos) may enter that margin.

MINIMUM SIZE

Full lockup — digital

Minimum width: 120px / 32mm print

Symbol alone — favicon / app icon

Minimum width: 24px / 8mm print

Logo Color Usage — Full Color

BS 1-3

The full-color lockup is the default. Use it whenever the background provides enough contrast.

On white / light backgrounds

QUORELIA

On navy / dark backgrounds

Logo Color Usage — Solid Color

When full color isn't available — one-color print, engraving, watermarks, fax — use the solid navy or solid white lockup. Never substitute another color.

Solid Navy — on white

Solid White — on navy

Logo on Backgrounds

BS 1-5

Approved background treatments and which lockup to pair with each.

White

Light gray

Navy

Teal (dark)

Rule of thumb: full color on white or light gray, solid white on navy/dark or busy photography — never full color on a dark or saturated background.

Incorrect Usage

The logo is a fixed asset, not a design element. These are the most common misuses — avoid all of them.

Don't stretch or distort the proportions

Don't rotate the mark

Don't recolor outside the approved palette

Don't place it on a low-contrast background

Don't add drop shadows or other effects

Don't place it over busy photography

Color System

BS 2-1

PRIMARY

SECONDARY

Amber is reserved for alerts and warnings — never used decoratively or as a second brand color.

Typography

HEADLINES

Cambria

Serif • Bold • Used for titles, section heads, and pull quotes only.

BODY & UI TEXT

Calibri

Sans-serif • Regular / Bold / Italic • Used for everything else — body copy, labels, data, UI.

Section header	Calibri Bold, 18–22pt
Body text	Calibri Regular, 12–15pt
Caption / footer	Calibri Regular, 9–11pt
Data / figures	Courier New, tabular

Iconography & Graphic Motif

BS 2-3

The four-pillar system is Quorelia's recurring graphic motif — numbered circles, always in this order, across every material.

SIGNAL DOT

The small amber accent dot on the Q badge represents an active alert — it appears only in application design where a live/status state is being shown (dashboards, signage), never as a generic decoration.

02

Application Design

The identity system applied to what clients and partners actually see.

Favicon

Never use the full lockup (symbol + wordmark) as a profile image — at small, circular crop sizes the wordmark becomes illegible. Symbol only, every time.

Brand Governance

This manual is a living document. As Quorelia moves from a single-plant beta engagement toward a multi-client platform, the system will extend — new applications, not a new identity.

OWNERSHIP

All logo files, color values, and templates in this manual are the single source of truth. Do not recreate them from screenshots.

REQUESTS

New applications (merchandise, signage, partner co-branding) should follow BS 1-5 and BS 1-6 before anything is produced or printed.

VERSION

v1.0 — August 2026. Supersedes all earlier informal logo files and color references.
